

To Whom It May Concern,

I want to take this opportunity to recommend Sean Linsky and Kingswood Builders. Sean is currently building a two-room addition to our home and is reconstructing the kitchen. In addition to his construction skills, which have been excellent, he has distinguished himself by continually looking at our project and making suggestions as to what changes should be made to meet our goals. He has picked up errors and inconsistencies from the architect plans which he brought to our attention and corrected without us incurring any additional cost.

His ability to think about the project as it were his own home and his extensive knowledge of construction have been excellent. I would recommend Sean for any construction or renovation without hesitation. This was my first experience with Sean, and I absolutely intend to use him for future projects.

Sincerely,
Alfred J. D'Angelo, Jr.
