

To Whom It May Concern,

Kingswood Builders has just completed work on an addition to our home and we are totally pleased. Friends and neighbors have commented on the beautiful finished construction that is rich in details which have really enhanced our home.

We particularly appreciated the fact that Sean Linskey maintained hands on supervision of the work and promptly returned our calls. When an unexpected problem (due to the original construction of our house) occurred in the middle of our renovations he was able to satisfactorily find a remedy. His employees and subcontractors were conscientious craftsmen, honest, pleasant and polite.

We certainly recommend Kingswood Builders and hope to count on their services again in the future for another project.

Sincerely,

Rick & Adele Fitzgibbons
